

Griegsby Farm Nelson Co Ky
Bottom of 449th page.

Page 107: Johnsons command
did not reach our camp until 2 P.M. We had our dinner before our pickets opened this picket post was on the ^{fire} Morganfield road. He says nothing about his dead and wounded.
He says 6 of his were sick. Capt'n Tightman Howard of Rockville was killed and twenty of our men were wounded. Three companies of our Regt. He saw whole Regt. 45-17

Please return

From the book entitled The Partisan Rangers (this name given by Jeff Davis, ^{is} more was like them guerillas) page 117. Book published in Louisville Ky in 1904 out of print, very scarce, I have tried for twenty years to secure a copy. Adam Johnson uses no dates. Those of us who were at Uniontown Sept 1st 1862 cannot forget. He says he reached there at 10 clock in the A.M.
Dinner time that day and for two hours ^{after} men and boys on foot and in shakely wagons streamed past our camp on the Morganfield road. At two o'clock our pickets fired.
Immediately we fell in line. We had three companies Johnson says we had a regiment and ~~some~~ were Ind home guards. Co ^{of the Ind} ~~of the~~ ^{max} commanded by Robt E Smith who had seen one years service as 1st Lieut of the Ashbury Guards to the Ind. This was true also of our Sergeants Henry Stevenson, Tyler ^{the Domayne} and the rest.
Co A was from Putnam Co and two Cos were from Parke. We gave him a good sharp fight.
Captain Tighlman Howard was killed, and twenty of us were wounded. Johnson says the whole force was captured. He did not count. Two strong squads escaped up above the town; and were picked up by the steam boat next day. He is very free with glanders against Col William Farrow. He ~~represents~~ represents him as a coward and says he found him at his headquarters. I saw Col Farrow on the ground. He was detailed from the 1st Ind where he had done good service - his being the first field officer to enter Memphis and he gave the command to cut down the flag pole; the Green Castle boys caught the flag and held it until a short time ago.
With Col Farrow Tolliver Brooks was detailed as his Adjutant. Co B Capt Hawn had been sent to some other point farther down the river.
The Co from Brazil Capt Sanders was in the battle of Richmond

Aug 31st 1862
J.S.

Drawn back of the door

Please Return
Why do the historians say only 8000 had guns at the surrender.

2nd ^{page} on the Partisan Rangers.
Another Company from our Regiment the 78th Ind. was detailed to escort rebel prisoners who had been exchanged back to their command in Louisiana. ~~We~~ Our duty was to furnish because a Union man had been foully murdered.
Adam Johnson's only commission at that time if he and his lieut Martin had any had been given them by bloody Forrest. He had not met John Morgan. He and his Surgeon wore some thing like a uniform. None of his men were uniformed and they were armed with shot guns and any thing they could pick up. They themselves were picked up wherever he could get them.
With four others from Co A I was on the skirmish line. Saw the little band full of cavalry go galloping down the river; saw the 500 or more non de script infantry marching at no two lines deep. Johnson left that night he says he had ^{an answer} ~~only~~ men sick; possibly some of them had lead poison from our Enfield rifles.
The citizens told us the next day Johnson hauled his dead and wounded away by mason loads. He says nothing about his casualties. There was only one Union family in Uniontown and that was a German family. Johnson's infantry stretched from the Morganfield road (running north to the river road running east). Frequently Johnson tells of his great gallantry at Fort Donaldson a few weeks before. Like the Texas Ranger who reated the butt of his ~~shot~~ gun on my cot said "We whipped your men but did not take the Fort?" Why? Jim Southard was one of the men who escaped up the river. James Johnson and Cheladly were in our ranks. Both went to Congress. The Founder of the State Hospital Dr Long was a member of the 78th. In Aug 1863 I saw James Johnson lead out of Camp Morton a company of rebel prisoners and muster them into the Union Army. No one ever saw a Union prisoner take ^{the} oath of allegiance to the Rebel Govt.

From the book entitled The Partisan Rangers

(this name given by Jeff Davis ^{is} more war like them guerillas) page 117. Book published in Louisville Ky in 1904 out of print, very scarce I have tried for twenty years to secure a copy. Adam Johnson uses no dates. Those of us who were at Uniontown Sept 1st 1862 cannot forget. He says he reached there at 10 c'clock in the A. M. Dinner time that day and for two hours ^{after} men and boys on foot and in shackly wagons streamed past our camp on the Morganfield road. At two o'clock our pickets fired. Immediately we fell in line. We had three companies Johnson says we had a regiment and say we were Ind home guards. Co A ^{78th Ind.} was commanded by Robt E. Smith who had seen one years service as 1st. Lieut of the Asbury Guards 16th Ind. This was true also of our Sergeants "Henry Stevenson, Tyler ^{Joe Donahue} and the rest. [written vertically at this point following words] [?] Boston

Co A was from Putnam Co and two Cos were from Parke. We gave him a good sharp fight. A Captain Tighlman Howard was killed, and twenty of us were wounded. Johnson says the whole force was captured. He did not count. Two strong squads escaped up above the town; and were picked up by the steam boat next day. He is very free with slanders against Col William Farrow. Hes ~~represents~~ represents him as a coward and says he found him at his headquarter. I saw Col Farrow on the battle ground. He was detailed from the 41st Ind where he had done good service—his being the first field officer to enter Memphis and he gave the command to cut down the flag pole; the Green Castle boys caught the flag and held it until a short time ago. With Col Farrow Tolliver Grooms was detailed as his Adjutant. Co B Capt Hawn had been sent to some other point farther down the river. The Co from Brasil Cattn Sanders was in the battle of Richmond [the following words were written vertically] Ky. Aug 31st 1862

2nd ^{page} on the Partisan Rangers.

Another Company from our Regiment the 78th Ind. was detailed to escort rebel prisoners who had been exchanged back to their command in Louisiana. ~~We~~ Our duty was to punish because a Union man had been foully murdered.

Adam John's only commision at that time if he and his lieut Martin had any had been given them by bloody Forrest. He had not met John Morgan. He and his Surgeon wore som thing like a uniform. None of his men were uniformed and they were armed with shot guns and any thing they could pick up. They themselves were picked up wherever he could get them

With four others from Co A I was on the skirmish line. Saw the little hand full of cavalry go galloping down the river; saw the 500 or more non de script infantry marching at us two lines deep. Johnson left that night he says he had ~~sixty~~ ^{a number of} men sick; possibly some of them had lead poison from our Enfield rifles.

The citizens told us the next day Johnson hauled his dead and wounded away by wagon loads. He says nothing about his casualties. There was only one Union family in Uniontown and that was a German family. Johnson's infantry streched from the Morganfield road (running north to ^{the} [?] river road running east.) Ferequently Johnson tells of his great gallantry at Fort Donaldson a few weeks before. Like the Texas Ranger who rested the butt of his shot gun on my cot said "We whipped your men but did not take the Fort." Why? [Joe?] Southward was one of the men who escaped up the river. James Johnson and Cheadle were in our ranks. Both went to Congress. The Founder of the State Hospital Dr Long was member of the 78th. In Aug 1863 I saw James Johnson lead out of Camp Morton a company of rebel prisoners and muster them into the Union Army. No one ever saw a union prisoner take ^{the} oath of allegiance to the Rebel Govt.

[On the back of this page are the following words]

Please return.

Why do the historians say only 8000 had guns at the surrender

[also written in tiny script] [drama?] back of tin door

[This is on a separate piece of paper and seems to be in addition to the notes from the Partisan Rangers}

Grigsby Farm Nelson Co Ky

Bottom of 449th page.

Page 117. Johnsons command

did not reach our camp

until 2.P.M. We had our dinner before our pickets [opened?] [following word written vertically] fire.

This picket post was on the

Morganfield road. He says nothing

about his dead and wounded.

He says 60^{of} his were sick Captn

Tighlman Howard of Rockville was killed and twty of our men were wounded. Three companies of our

Regt. He [is?]a whole Rgt.